

SPECIAL POLICE FORCE FORMED TO RUSH INQUIRY IN KREUGER AFFAIRS

More Arrests Expected and Activities of Investigators Are to Extend to New York, Berlin, Paris, Amsterdam and Geneva.

AD TO GERMAN FASCISTS ALLEGED

Stockholm Newspaper Reports Finding of Receipt Signed by Hitler and Another by Former King Alfonso of Spain.

STOCKHOLM, April 18.—New developments in the investigation of the Kreuger and Tollman case, which led to the suicide in Paris last month, led today to preparations for a wide-ranging international inquiry which will include the United States.

The plans called for a special Kreuger Department of Police, made up of four lawyers and six detectives. It was understood that the police activities would extend to New York, Berlin, Paris, Amsterdam and Geneva.

The investigators were said to have established that the forged Italian bonds reported to have been issued last week among the securities of the Kreuger & Toll-man, amounted to about $100,000, and were printed at Kreuger's factory in a private firm here about a year ago.

The head of the firm said only the forms of the bonds had been issued and they bore no signatures or numbers. The firm had been used for an illegitimate purpose, he said.

Hitler Aid Alleged.
The investigators said 42 Treasury bonds for $500,000 each had been forged by Kreuger and that he alone was responsible for their presence in the private safe. The finger signature of E. Brelli for the Italian monopolies board was falsely given, they said.

The aura of romance that clung to the Swedish financial leader has been completely dispelled by the admission since his suicide. One local newspaper called him "a cool fraudster and gambler."

The newspaper Social Demokra-ten said the investigation showed Kreuger had given financial support to Fascist movements in Germany and Spain. A receipt for $100,000 reichsmarks, signed with the name of Adolf Hitler, German national Socialist leader, was found, the paper said, and also a receipt for a payment of 500,000 pesetas purporting to be on behalf of former King Alfonso of Spain.

Dual from Hitler.
The "anti-life" department of Hitler's National Socialist Party at Berlin last night branded as false
the report that a payment to German Fascism had been made.

Neither Hitler nor any member of the party ever took a penny from the Kreuger match king or any of his representatives, the statement said.

There was no confirmation of the Social Democrats' story on payments to Fascist movements, however, and other newspapers here did not print it.

At Fontainebleau, France, former King Alfonso XIII of Spain and members of his entourage refused comment on reports saying receipts had been found indicating Kreuger had paid a substantial sum to support a Fascist movement in Spain.

A GUARDIA ASSAILS
BOND ISSUE IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The New York Stock Exchange was shocked with either carelessness, negligence or connivance in the issue of $250,000,000 of the Kreuger bonds in this country—in the House speech today by Representative La Guardia (Rep.), New York.

Mr. Kreuger, Swedish match
king, recently committed suicide.
The House committee on the Kreuger case has disclosed scandal.
La Guardia referred to the issue of "prominent stock brokers and exchange officials in reference to the stock transfer tax in the House report, and their attack on any legislation respecting of the prominent firms

"PUSSYFOOT" JOHNSON FOR DRY REFERENDUM

Prohibitionist Wants It, He Says, When People Demand It in Manner Provided By Constitution.

By the Associated Press.
BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 18.— William E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson, internationally known dry crusader, is "distinctly in favor of a referendum on the liquor question whenever the people demand it in the form and manner provided by the Constitution," according to a copyrighted interview published by the Binghamton Press today.

"If the people really wish to return this liquor question to the control of the states, let them do it, for it is the wish of the American people they will do it in spite of earthquakes and high water," Johnson said. "If any Congress, by two-thirds vote, believes it necessary to submit a repeal amendment, I see no reason why it should not do so."

Drys Greatly Concerned Over Pen-sylvania Primary.
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 18.—
The prohibition issue was brought to the front in the senatorial campaigns of Senator James A. Davis and Gen. Smedley D. Butler today by an Anti-Saloon League statement. It said the contest was of vital import as a "clear cut" wet and dry fight. Butler is a dry, while Davis is campaigning on a modification platform.

The view that the Butler-Davis contest would have a "tremendous bearing on the outcome of prohibition" was expressed in an Anti-Saloon League letter to Pennsyvania clergymen over the signature of Dr. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent.

McBride wrote that the League was "greatly concerned about the Pennsylvania primary election," and added: "The issue is clear cut.
Gen. Butler is a dry. Senator Davis has accepted the ultimatum of the Vare machine and has come out for modification. We need men like Butler in the Senate who will stand four-square for prohibition."

HUNDREDS ATTEND FUNERAL OF GUNMAN

Tommy Hayes, Murdered Near Granite City, Buried in Calvary Cemetery.

Tommy Hayes, notorious gunman, who was killed early Friday in Madison a few minutes after two of his bodyguards were murdered near Granite City, was buried
this morning in Calvary Cemetery, after an undertaking had conducted a brief funeral service.

Before the funeral the body lay in the living room of the bungalow at 627 Bermuda avenue, Normandy, where Hayes lived with his wife and two-year-old son. Several hundred friends and relatives gathered in the house and on the lawn and those in the house knelt as the undertaker recited the Lord's prayer.

The casket was carried from the house by six palbearers: "Spot"
Reagan, a professional bondsman;
Frank Murphy, president of the Red Top Cab Co.; Edward Fleming and Lawrence and Harry Burg, cousins of Hayes, and John O'Brien,
a brother-in-law.

As the cortege neared the gates of the cemetery an airplane circled overhead and from it were dropped a shower of flowers which fluttered down around the hearse.

Deputies said they had observed few members of the underworld at the funeral.

A member of the family said no effort had been made to obtain the services of a priest at the funeral although the Hayes family is Catholic.

ADVICE TO U. S. AUTO MAKERS

PARIS, April 18.—Andre Citroen, French automobile manufacturer, recommended to American manufacturers in an international broadcast last night the French system of reducing hours of work rather than closing factories while they get rid of stocks.

The United States is behind Europe in the way of introducing new cars to the public, he said. He urged the American makers to refrain from closing their factories for several months, then reopening their plants only to close them again.

ATTACKER-SLAYER OF KANSAS CHILD LYNCHED BY MOB

Richard Read, 53, Ex-Convict, Taken From Jail at Saint Francis and Hanged Near Atwood.

HAD BEEN MOVED TWICE FOR SAFETY

Armed Men From Selden Set Out in Autos After Public Funeral of 9-Year-Old Dorothy Hunter.

By the Associated Press.
SAINT FRANCIS, Kan., April 18.—
A mob of about 200 men early today lynched Richard Read, bachelor ex-convict, 53 years old, who had confessed that he attacked, then murdered 9-year-old Dorothy Hunter.

Read was moved twice Saturday for protection from rapidly forming mobs, but was finally found in the Cheyenne County jail. The mob drove into Saint Francis at about midnight last night, seized Sheriff A. A. Bacon and Deputy J. H.
Indors, took the keys to the jail,
and departed with their prisoner in the direction of Selden, 75 miles away, home of the girl victim and her father.

Hanged Near Scene of Crime.
About midway between the two towns, near Atwood, the motorists drove the men charged with the murder to find a tree. The one used was an elm in a ravine on the Ed Lyman ranch.

As automobiles arrived, they were deployed around the tree in the direction of Selden. The men were armed with revolvers and rifles. Read was bound with barbed wire.

"If it wasn't for liquor," Read said, "I wouldn't have done it. I wouldn't do it again."

He asked that his vatch be given to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Read, who live three miles northeast of Selden. The mob dispersed rapidly after the hanging.

More than 20 years ago a man named Chauncy Depew was lynched near the same spot for the murder of a family in a cattle feud.

Read lunched at the Thomas McGlinchey school house, where he had lived since he was a boy.
He was expected to be taken to Saint Francis for a hearing.

The girl had been missing since Thursday evening when she returned to the school house for a dinner bucket she had forgotten. Read, a neighbor, was arrested because of his previous conviction of assaulting a 15-year-old girl in Colorado. Officers said he confessed during the trial in his car with a string of beads, then attacking and beating her to death.

Sheriff McGlinchey, keeping the confession secret, dispersed a mob which gathered at the school house County jail at Colby, explaining that he needed Read to find the girl's body. Then he put the prisoner in his car and drove to the haystack and after recovery of the body the sheriff sped to Saint Francis. Leaving Read in jail
there, he returned to Colby.

MASSIE IN A DAZE AFTER KILLING OF HAWAIIAN, HE SAYS

Wandered About House, He Testifies on Cross-Examination on Shooting of His Wife's Assailant.

MRS. FORTESCUE "TOOK CHARGE"

Directed Attempt to Dispose of Body, He Relates—Prosecutor Doubts Lieutenant Fired Shot.

By the Associated Press.
HONOLULU, April 18.—On cross-examination by Public Prosecutor John C. Kelley, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie testified today he wandered about the home of Mrs.
Granville Fortescue in a daze after the shooting of Joseph Kahahawai.
Previously he testified that he had a pistol in his hand when Kahahawai admitted being one of five men who attacked Mrs. Massie. After that he remembered nothing, he said, until he was taken to the police station.

Massie, his mother-in-law, Mrs.
Fortescue, E. J. Lord and Albert O.
Jones, enlisted men, are on trial for the murder of Kahahawai.
Massie testified Kahahawai died on a chaise longue in the Fortescue home, while Mrs. Fortescue watched and Jones and Lord tried to remove blood stains from Kahaha-wai's clothing.

Massie said the death scene had been described to him by the other three defendants.

Says Mrs. Fortescue Took Charge.
Massie said the leadership in attempting to dispose of Kahahawai's body was taken by Mrs. Fortescue.

The witness said that the three realized that Kahahawai had been killed they were "so excited they ran around in circles shouting."

Massie related that Jones told him how the body was carried into the bathroom.

"Did Jones tell you why he did not go in the car which took Kahahawai's body toward Koko Head?" Kelley demanded. "Yes," said Massie. "He said Mrs. Fortescue told him to stay there and clean up the house."

Continuing his questioning the prosecutor asked Massie: "Were you trying to get a confession from Kahahawai to be used at the retrial of the men charged with the murder of your wife?" "I wasn't interested in any trial," Massie replied. "I was thinking of my wife, and so would you, Mr. Kelley."

Again today persons entering the courtroom were searched for weapons. Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, kept his seventy-fifth birthday by putting in a busy day in court.

Massie was pale but composed.
Kelley questioned him about a dance he attended with Mrs. Massie just before she was attacked.
Asked him if he had carried any liquor to the dance, "Do I have to answer that?" Massie queried.

"No," said Massie. "I wasn't interested in any trial," Massie replied. "I was thinking of my wife,

HUGE LOSS OF LIFE IS REPORTED IN TEMBLOR IN CHINA

Yangtze Valley in North-east Hupeh Province Jarred Walled City of Macheng Hard Hit.

'THOUSANDS' OF DEAD STREWN ON GROUND

Walls of 70 Per Cent of Houses in Town Said to Have Been Shaken Down on the Occupants.

By the Associated Press.
HANKOW, China, April 18.—Be-lated reports reaching here today through Chinese sources from Northeast Hupeh Province said "tens of thousands of persons" perished in an earthquake there April 6. The reports said the tremors jarred the Yangtze Valley.

"Human bodies and dead animals are strewn over the ground throughout the stricken area," the dispatches said.

The important walled town of Macheng was reported to have suffered most severely, the walls of 70 per cent of the houses having been shaken down on their occupants.

Hupeh Province, in almost the exact geometrical center of China, has a population estimated at 27,000,000. No accurate census figures have ever been available for China. It includes the confluence of the Han and Yangtze rivers, at which are the important Wu-Han tri-city, one of which is Hankow. All the important roads in China pass through Hupeh, making the province a center of trade and industry as well as agriculture. Out of the river valleys the country is mountainous.

The seismograph at St. Louis University recorded a severe earthquake beginning at 6:17 p. m. last Tuesday, with the main wave at 6:50 o'clock. The disturbance was estimated at about 7500 miles distant from St. Louis, but the direction could not be determined. Due to the difference in time, the earthquake would have occurred in China at about 7 a. m. Wednesday.

MASSIE IN A DAZE AFTER KILLING OF HAWAIIAN, HE SAYS

testified he took his own pistol to the Fortescue residence, but that another pistol of .32-caliber, which he had in his hand when he confronted Kahahawai. Then suddenly he testified he had a lapse of memory after the native admitted participating in the assault upon Mrs. Massie.

Taken Over His Story.
Kelley asked the witness how he had heard the rumors to which Massie had testified previously—rumors which the naval officer had termed "the vilest about his wife and himself." "My friends told me," said Massie. "They came to me and wanted to know what we could do."
"You mean they asked you what you were going to do about it?" Kelley demanded. "No, they asked what we could do about it—they and I," Massie answered.

"Did you ask Mr. Beebe, your attorney, if the law could be invoked in Hawaii?" Kelley pursued. Massie said he did not recall having done so.

"Did you ever tell anyone you ought to take a gun and kill Kahahawai?" the prosecutor asked. "I want to be accurate, Mr. Kelley—not that I recall."

Kelley moved back and forth over Massie's story. Members of the mixed blood jury conferred frequently as Massie answered questions.

A note of sarcasm crept into the prosecutor's voice as he repeated the answer Massie often gave: "I don't recall."

If Massie killed Kahahawai, he asked, "why did he use Jones' gun instead of his own?" He admits that he brought his own gun to the Fortescue house (where Kahahawai was killed) that morning.

Kelley said Massie "has not put forth any insanity case yet, not from his story. The lapse of memory he tells about is not insanity. If the defendants did not plan to kill Kahahawai when they took him to the Fortescue house, they made all preparations to do it," he asserted.

WALL STREET VIEW OF CASH AND GOODS VALUE

Earnings Declared to Be Formost Consideration on Stocks, Particularly Probable Trend

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 18.—Many leading appraisers of stock values say the most important factor in determining the value of stocks over today.

Nevertheless, Wall street security analysts question whether all such stocks should be regarded as bargains merely because their present market prices look low compared with their value in terms of assets they represent. The companies' ability to earn profits, these specialists insist, plays a more important part in determining the value of stocks over a period of years.

Some foremost statistical organizations have had a field day with the 1931 crop of earnings reports just issued. Several companies appear to fall in the category of the one described by the Utah Senator, who cited as an example one stock selling at $4.50 a share while "actually in cash and goods the stock is worth $40."

Without in any sense indicating that they thought these stocks should be bought, but in some cases frankly stating they would advise against holding them, a list of active investors showing their book value, comprising all assets, "frozen" assets, and other assets, comprising only liquid assets, was prepared.

The figures showed that Allis-Chalmers stock on Dec. 31 showed in its balance sheet a book value of $41 a share, while net working capital alone was equivalent to $21 a share. The market price at Saturday's close was $2 a share.

American Car and Foundry, with book value of $123 and working capital of $54, was selling at $47.50. Bethlehem Steel, with book value of $134 and working capital of $36 sold at $11.75. Inland Steel, showing book value of $52 and net working capital of $19 was quoted at $15.

Pullman showed book value of $74, working capital of $18 and market value of $16. Westinghouse Electric showed book value of $50, working capital of $35 and market value of $23.25.

United States Steel of $179 a share, had working capital of $49 a share, and yet sold in the open market at $32.25.

"On these figures," said one ex-cop, "they would appear to be good purchases. But important though book value may be, and vital as the working capital position of the company may be, there are many other factors which figure in computing a value for a stock. Earnings are foremost, and particularly their probable future trend."

Oklahoma Police Chief Slain.
TUCUMSEH, Ok., April 18.—Grover Butler, Chief of Police, was shot and killed while patrolling a street early today. His assailant, hidden behind a platform at the rear of the postoffice, was said to have opened fire without warning.

Securing the bonds issued in this country could be substituted by other bonds of equal par value—not of equal market value, but of equal par value, so that after the Kreuger bonds had been sold in the United States, in accordance with the provision in the agreement, not known to investors, the good bonds were sold and no-good bonds of Austria and other countries that were selling for about 5 cents on the dollar were substituted.

"So that the American investor, on the representation made by the New York Stock Exchange, thinking he was investing in something that would sound, now finds himself without bonds, the security and collateral for which have been entirely removed."

"Let Mr. Lee Higginson and Mr. Richard Whitney explain that, if they can."

3 SHOT IN CLASH BETWEEN MINERS AND OHIO MILITIA

Crowd of 400, Declared to Be Strikers, Storms Barricade on Road Leading to Goodyear Colliery.

By the Associated Press.
CADIZ, O., April 18.—Three men were shot early today by Ohio National Guardsmen protecting mines in the Eastern Ohio bituminous coal field. The three men, said to be striking miners, were wounded after a crowd of 400 twice stormed a barricade erected in a road leading to the Somers mine of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. near Adena.

The first time the crowd retreated after guardsmen fired into the ground, but the second assault was not stopped until three men fell, all shot in the legs. Two of those shot were Elmer Trion, 20 years old, of Piney Fork, and Louis Porter of Belleair.

The assailants retreated and miners employed in the pit went to work as the soldiers stood on guard nearby.

Two more guard strongholds were the scene of shootings today. One was a barricaded outpost on the Georgetown road, and the other on the Buchanan road, not far away. An attempt to storm the second outpost was blocked when the soldiers fired to scare the attackers.

Guard officers said the soldiers did not fire directly at the miners. They said the shots were directed at the ground, and the three men were hit by deflected bullets.

When the shooting started, the soldiers sent word by radio to headquarters and reinforcements were rushed to the scene.

In a disorder at the Somers mine last week, a striker was killed and another wounded.

The strike of about 10,000 men was called in protest against wage reductions, said by the union to approximately 25 per cent. The new wage is $3.50 a day for day work and 38 cents for tonnage.

Nearly 1000 strikers and friends attended funeral services yesterday for William Kimbrell, 55, of Bradlee, miner, shot to death by a clash of miners with Deputy Sheriffs and National Guard observers several days ago.

THREE KILLED IN AIRPLANE CRASH IN ORBETELLO, ITALY Machine Carrying Army and Navy Officers and Civilian Flung Into Water.

By the Associated Press.
ORBETELLO, Italy, April 18.—Three persons were killed and four injured today when a hydroplane carrying army and navy officers and one civilian plunged into the water here during a demonstration flight.

The dead were: The pilot, Lieutenant-Colonel Gascone Guasconi, Engineer Furian of the Fiat Automobile Co., and Naval Mechanic Maletta.

The injured are: Naval Captains Voi and Cattaneo, Lieutenant-Colonel Mamuso of the army, and Naval Aviator Filippini.

Witnesses said they thought the accident was due to a maneuvering error, since the plane touched the water at a high speed and turned over.

The craft was known as the S-55, the same type used on the squadron flight to Brazil headed by Commander Italo Balbo in 1931.

Orbetello is a seaport on the western coast of Italy, 70 miles northwest of Rome.

Whitney defended short selling himself, the lawyer replied that he was laying the ground for a later series of questions. He did not indicate what line these questions would take.

Whitney reiterated his frequently expressed view that speculation, including both marginal buying and short selling, was necessary to maintenance of a liquid market for securities.

He said that he himself had not sold the market short for about a year. He did sell short, he added, in the spring of 1929, when he thought the market had gone too high.

"I was wrong," he said, ruefully. "No Bear Ever Died Rich."

At another point in his testimony he repeated what he said was a stock market adage that "no bear has ever died rich."

Whitney again told the Senators that liquidation by investors, and not short selling, was responsible for the recent downswing on the market.

Blaine brought up the matter of Whitney's data at the afternoon session of the committee and received the assurance both of Wall Street and of Senator Norbeck (Rep.) of South Dakota, that the records were formally in possession of the committee and open to inspection by all its members.

While Whitney was testifying, a bell in the hearing room signified a roll-call vote in the Senate. Senator Brookhart (Rep.), Iowa, had inquiries made as to the subject of the vote and then announced to the committee.

They are voting on a motion to cut the prohibition appropriation in half.

"Excuse me," exclaimed Senator Wagner (Dem.), New York, an ardent supporter of the prohibition, as he hastened for the door on his way to the Senate chamber.

A cheer went up from the crowd. Brookhart, a dry, followed Wagner, and presently all the committee members made up the markets.

The hearing stood in recess pending the return of the Senators.

Gray demanded that Whitney say "why you think short selling is necessary to maintain the market."

The witness said, "because it is an integral part of speculation, the other part being marginal purchasing. Speculation together with investments make up the markets of the world. To take away one part of speculation or investment leaves the remainder like the man with but one leg. He has lost his equilibrium."

Gray asked Whitney if he thought short selling a part of the investment market. "No, I do not say that," said Whitney. "I do say it is an integral part of the entire market."

"Can't Take Away Part."

"Why is short selling an aid to the market when the market is depressed?" "I don't say short selling will prevent the market going down or put the market up, but without speculation and investment the market cannot exist. Therefore you can't take away any part of it."

Whitney added that short selling provides the market with "its only compulsory buyer." The short seller, he said, must eventually buy to cover his transaction.

Gray asked if it were not true that short selling did not take place "until there is an indication that the market is going down?" Whitney said "not necessarily."

SENATOR W. J. HARRIS, OF GEORGIA, DIES

Succumbs in Washington After an Illness of Several Weeks.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 18.—Senator William J. Harris of Georgia died today after an illness of several weeks.

The Senator's physicians announced that his heart had finally given away under the strain of the intestinal trouble from which he has been suffering. The Senator's immediate family was at his bedside when he died. He was 64 years old.

Senator Harris was operated on a few weeks ago for a bladder ailment and was thought to be recovering when the intestinal trouble developed.

Harris was appointed director of the United States Census Bureau in 1913. He previously had been secretary to the late Senator A. S. Clay, Georgia State Senator, member of the Georgia State Democratic Committee and secretary of the final chairman of the committee.

For a time he was Acting Secretary of Commerce. President Wilson named him chairman of the Federal Trade Commission in 1915, a post he held until 1918, when he resigned to enter the race for the United States Senate. He was elected that year and returned for a second term in 1924.

During his Senate career, Harris took an especial interest in immigration and was particularly opposed to Mexican immigration. He also devoted much attention to obtaining a Federal appropriation for cancer research in cooperation with philanthropic agencies.

Harris was born in Cedarhurst, Ga., Feb. 2, 1868. He was one of five sons of Dr. Charles Mook Harris and Margaret Mook Harris.

Two of the Senator's brothers were army officers—Major General Peter C. Harris, who was recognized for gallant service in the Spanish-American War and who was Adjutant-General of the United States Army from September, 1918, until his retirement four years later, and Maj. Hunter Harris, who, after an enviable record in the World War, became instructor in military science at the University of Georgia. His other brothers were Dr. Seal Harris, a former president of the Southern Medical Association, and James C. Harris, for years superintendent of the Georgia State Institute for Deaf and Dumb.

JAESIE REPORTS ANOTHER CONTACT WITH KIDNAPERS

Dr. Condon's Statement for Talking Pictures Denied by Another Source in Lindbergh Inquiry.

BABY IN DETROIT, MESSAGE SAYS

Telephone Call Warns Against Paying More Ransom and Asserts Child Will Be Returned.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, April 18.—It is the thirty-ninth day since the Lindbergh baby was kidnapped and his parents are still waiting for some word that will lead to his restoration.

A mysterious telephone call to the Toledo (O.) Times stirred interest here. A man who said his name was Patterson told the paper the baby is in Detroit and will be returned within a week. He said the kidnapers had called out and warned against paying more ransom.

A blue sedan which police said was used by the kidnapers was found abandoned in South Philadelphia last night several hours after the girl was returned. Police declined to say how they identified it.

Detective Capt. John Creedon said his men had had "an advance tip." This was reported to refer to a conversation about a kidnapping overheard by two detectives in a South Philadelphia restaurant Thursday night. The detectives could not hear all that was said but took note of the man and woman who were talking.

The girl described two men who lured her into the car and told her she was going to school in Wilmington and she had pointed out two houses in Philadelphia where she was held.

Abandonment of the girl followed two contacts between Father Pugliese and the kidnapers. The priest said a man and a woman called on him early yesterday and asked him to act as intermediary for a $50,000 ransom. The priest declined to act and told police.

Later the man and woman telephoned him, threatening to kill the child. What the priest told them then, and other circumstances, remained unexplained.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brodsky, maintained silence. Brodsky is a dry goods jobber, reputedly a man of some means.

MRS. GRACE THOMASSON SAYS SHE RECOGNIZED KIDNAPER

Declares He Is Interested in Litigation Over Properties of Her Husband.

Mrs. Grace Carol Thomasson, 56 Broadway drive, Clayton, who returned home Saturday night and said she had been held by kidnapers for four days, told reporters today she recognized one of her captors as a man interested in the litigation over properties of her elderly husband, Hugh W. Thomasson.

Mrs. Thomasson told of having a long conversation with the man during her captivity and said she had signed several documents that might have a bearing on claims to Thomasson's real estate holdings. Although she said her captors had discussed a $15,000 ransom demand and required her to write a note to her attorney for that amount, a former private detective now employed by the Thomassons denied any ransom was paid.

Thomasson has been declared of unsound mind and is under care of a guardian. The husband's suit over his properties now pending is one brought by the Trust Co. of St. Louis County to set aside deeds conveying real estate to Conrad E. Frederick, described as Mrs. Thomasson's chauffeur before the marriage in July, 1930. The trust company charges the deeds are forgeries.

EIGHT MEN, $50,000 LIQUOR CARGO SEIZED AT BILOXI

Runners Protected by Fellow Workers With Machine Guns During Unloading, Police Say.

BILOXI, Miss., April 18.—Eight men were arrested here yesterday in connection with an alleged liquor running syndicate and the seizure by police and the Coast Guard of $50,000 worth of imported liquor Friday afternoon.

Those held on charges of transportation and possession of liquor are: John Lewis, John Williams, Charles Bice, Emile Malone, James Powell, Arthur Thornton and Richard Kennedy, all of Biloxi, and Charles Brown, who gives New York as his address. Chief of Police Alfonso Gabrieli said he also has warrants for the arrest of Frank Johnson, Biloxi, Voyle Moran, boat captain, and Roy Rosali, and that he will seize two trucks and two boats.

The boat, here the "Mary D," seized here by the Coast Guard with a $50,000 cargo of imported liquor, and the "Iona Louise." Both are alleged to have been implicated in the transportation of liquor from a mother ship off Chandeleur Island to Biloxi harbor. The runners were protected by fellow workers armed with machine guns during the unloading, police said. Part of the liquor seized was in a freight car billed for Stevens Point, Wis.

HALPIN DECREE NOT DIVORCE

Mrs. Cynthia Halpin, 502 Clarkson place, was granted a decree of separate maintenance from Richard L. Halpin, and not a divorce, as was erroneously stated in yesterday's Post-Dispatch.

The action took place last Thursday in Circuit Judge Ryan's court.

250,000 Fire at Beliz, Honduras.

BELIZE, British Honduras, April 18.—Fire destroyed three business blocks last night, including the city's two principal hotels. Damage was estimated at $250,000. About 450 were left homeless. No lives were lost.

least auspicious for making a contact from the air.

A strong wind was blowing, and the sea was rough. If a contact were to be made between an airplane and a vessel these sources said the southern side of the island would have furnished a better place. The landing of a plane in the waters off Gayhead would have been hazardous, they said.

Several persons at Gayhead who were in a position to observe any activity off shore, said they saw only one vessel. That, they said, was a brilliantly lighted passenger steamer.

Police were at a loss to explain the finding today of the leather bag containing several articles of men's clothing. The bag was found by a trout fisherman in an isolated section of Chalmers. It contained a suit, underwear, shirts, a hat and other articles. Police believed it was dropped from an airplane but were unable to explain the motive or to offer any suggestion as to whom it might have been intended. All identifying marks had been cut or torn from the various pieces of apparel. A ticket stub of the Paramount Theater, New York, and a ticket of the Hudson Steamship Co. furnished the only clues.

The contents of the bag included a man's blue serge suit, a suit of underwear, a soft shirt and several collars, size 17. In the pockets were 50 cents, a cigarette case and a ticket marked Hudson Steamship Co.

Other articles included tortoise shell glasses, several handkerchiefs, a bunch of keys, a cigarette case and a ticket marked Hudson Steamship Co.

KIDNAPERS FREE WILMINGTON GIRL IN PHILADELPHIA

Search Made for Man and Woman as Abductors of Hilda Brodsky, 9—Abandoned Auto Found.

By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—Police are searching for a man and woman as the kidnapers of 9-year-old Hilda Brodsky for $50,000 ransom at Wilmington, Del. Friday. They said they knew who the kidnapers were. The child was released from an automobile at the parish home of the Rev. Joseph Pugliese here yesterday. Father Pugliese and police declared no ransom had been paid.

The child was put out of the car on the sidewalk in front of the parish house. Father Pugliese turned her over to the police who took her home. Her father, Harry Brodsky, dashed through a crowd of curious onlookers in front of the home, swept the sobbing child into his arms and hurried back into the house. She was hysterical but unharmed.

A blue sedan which police said was used by the kidnapers was found abandoned in South Philadelphia last night several hours after the girl was returned. Police declined to say how they identified it.

Detective Capt. John Creedon said his men had had "an advance tip." This was reported to refer to a conversation about a kidnapping overheard by two detectives in a South Philadelphia restaurant Thursday night. The detectives could not hear all that was said but took note of the man and woman who were talking.

The girl described two men who lured her into the car and told her she was going to school in Wilmington and she had pointed out two houses in Philadelphia where she was held.

Abandonment of the girl followed two contacts between Father Pugliese and the kidnapers. The priest said a man and a woman called on him early yesterday and asked him to act as intermediary for a $50,000 ransom. The priest declined to act and told police.

Later the man and woman telephoned him, threatening to kill the child. What the priest told them then, and other circumstances, remained unexplained.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brodsky, maintained silence. Brodsky is a dry goods jobber, reputedly a man of some means.

MRS. GRACE THOMASSON SAYS SHE RECOGNIZED KIDNAPER

Declares He Is Interested in Litigation Over Properties of Her Husband.

Mrs. Grace Carol Thomasson, 56 Broadway drive, Clayton, who returned home Saturday night and said she had been held by kidnapers for four days, told reporters today she recognized one of her captors as a man interested in the litigation over properties of her elderly husband, Hugh W. Thomasson.

Mrs. Thomasson told of having a long conversation with the man during her captivity and said she had signed several documents that might have a bearing on claims to Thomasson's real estate holdings. Although she said her captors had discussed a $15,000 ransom demand and required her to write a note to her attorney for that amount, a former private detective now employed by the Thomassons denied any ransom was paid.

Thomasson has been declared of unsound mind and is under care of a guardian. The husband's suit over his properties now pending is one brought by the Trust Co. of St. Louis County to set aside deeds conveying real estate to Conrad E. Frederick, described as Mrs. Thomasson's chauffeur before the marriage in July, 1930. The trust company charges the deeds are forgeries.

WIFE GONE; MAN ENDS LIFE

Frank Smittle, 25 years old, was found dead of gas poisoning in his flat at 1816A O'Fallon street yesterday afternoon.

The body was lying on several chairs with the head near a stove, six burners of which were open, but unlighted. Police were informed that Smittle's wife, Daisy, left him Friday after a quarrel, taking their two small children with her. Smittle was employed by the Century Electric Co.

HOMICIDE VERDICT AGAINST MAN WHO KILLED POLICEMAN

James Tucker Who Killed One Officer and Wounded Two Others Held for Grand Jury.

A verdict of homicide, holding James Tucker, Negro, for the grand jury, was returned today by the Coroner's jury which inquired into the killing of Patrolman George W. Schrammeyer. Tucker, an escaped inmate of the City Sanatorium, crazed by drink, killed Patrolman Schrammeyer and wounded two policemen who tried to arrest him for recklessly firing his revolver in the back yard at 4030 Aldine avenue, Saturday afternoon.

Other policemen, who wounded and arrested Tucker, were witnesses at the inquest.

Sgt. Walter C. Archibald, shot in the right thigh by Tucker, is recovering satisfactorily. Patrolman Guybert C. Hartmann, who was shot in the right chest, is expected to recover more slowly. The bullet passed out under his left ear. Dorothy Thomas, the Negro girl of 13 who was struck by a stray bullet, has only a flesh wound in the left side.

Tucker, a prisoner in City Hospital No. 2, is considered as having a good chance to recover from his five wounds. The most serious of which was in the back, the bullet passing out of the chest.

He was an inmate of the City Sanatorium for three years, escaping and being recaptured three times before he last escaped in 1928. Police and sanatorium records show that he was subject to hallucinations.

The funeral of Patrolman Schrammeyer will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Hermann undertaking chapel, Fair and West Florissant avenues, followed by interment in Memorial Park cemetery.

He was 50 years old, lived at 4239 North Euclid avenue, and had been in the city for 10 years. He is survived by his widow, three sons and a married daughter. Burial will be with police honors.

MAYOR MILLER WON'T PROMOTE WALKER'S BEER PARADE IDEA

Gets Wire From New York Executive But Thinks Beer Demonstration Would Mean Nothing.

Mayor Miller said today he would take no part in promoting a public demonstration in favor of legislation to permit the manufacture of beer. He has received telegrams from Mayor Walker of New York and Congressman Dyer suggesting that such a demonstration be held May 14.

Mayor Walker wired that he was sponsoring a beer parade in New York on that day and invited Mayors of other cities to join him in the movement. Dyer urged Miller to co-operate.

Miller told reporters he thought any demonstration of the sort would mean nothing and would have no effect on Congress. His secretary, Jules Field, may turn the messages over to some St. Louisans who may be interested in the proposal.

CHILDREN PARADE TO OPEN CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN IN CITY

5000 Pupils in Procession—Costumes, Placards and Implements Suggest Spring Activities.

School children of St. Louis, chief workers in the spring clean-up campaign, paraded through downtown streets today, about 5000 strong.

With costumes, placards and implements they symbolized the movement to "clean up, paint up and fix up" the community. Virtually all of the public schools and several parochial schools had delegations on march.

The parade moved from Twelfth boulevard and Locust street to City Hall, by way of Locust, Broadway, Chestnut and Twelfth.

Half an hour was required to cover the 18-block route, and the end of the procession had moved only about two blocks when the head reached the objective. The children, led by a police detachment and automobiles carrying city, school and Chamber of Commerce officials, required 25 minutes to pass a point.

There were comparatively few spectators, but the youngsters furnished their own enthusiasm, with school yells and happy cries. Gaily uniformed bands from the six high schools and a Boy Scout drum and bugle corps supplied snappy music.

Brooms, Mops and Dusters. Brooms, mops, dusters, toy ladders, one laboriously borne real ladder, paint cans and brushes, various garden tools and a miscellany of objects were carried by the marchers. There were girls in aprons and dust caps, in garden hats and plants, boys in overalls, in smocks and berets, and innumerable pupils with school-made slogan signs.

Two boys from Hodges School masqueraded as ostriches in outfits cleverly made up of gunny sacks. The birds wore the injunction, "Clean Up or Hide Your Face." On Chestnut street the terra cotta office building of a real estate firm was being washed as the parade went by.

Speech at City Hall. The children massed in a colorful, impressive crowd on the north lawn of City Hall. Addresses, over a loudspeaker, were made from a balcony by Mayor Miller, Supt. Gerling of the Board of Education, C. W. Gaylord, board chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, and Robert E. Lee, marshal of the demonstration. The children listened attentively as the speakers told of the desirability of improving the community's appearance and giving work to idle men in doing so. E. C. Prager, chairman of the Clean Up Campaign Committee, presided.

Mayor Miller has proclaimed the period beginning today and ending April 30 as general "clean-up time." The campaign is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Education. It will be waged principally by appeals from school children, organized in districts, to property owners and tenants.

COTTON BELT OFFERS REFUNDING PROPOSAL

Plans New Bond Issue to Meet Obligations That Fall
Due June 1.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Holders of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway's first consolidated mortgage 4 per cent gold bonds, maturing June 1, have been asked to assent to a refunding plan by which 5 per cent bonds, maturing in 1930, would be issued to them. The St. Louis Southwestern, or Cotton Belt, which last week was formally absorbed into the Southern Pacific system, is faced with a receivership, its officials announce, unless holders of its obligations consent to the exchange plan. A statement by Daniel Upthegrove, president, says that the Cotton Belt is unable to meet the principal obligation, and is unable also to pay short-term 6 per cent notes, $9,000,000 in amount, falling due on the same day, June 1.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has agreed to advance a loan of $15,815,415, sufficient to meet the interest and one-half the principal of the maturing obligations provided the remainder is met by an exchange of bonds and notes, the company's announcement says. The bank holding the bulk of short term notes, the announcement continues, has agreed to accept promissory 8 per cent notes payable June 1, 1935, in payment of half the principal and "prompt acceptance by the other bank is confidently expected."

Figures are given to show the earning capacity of the Cotton Belt under normal conditions, and bondholders are reminded of "possible loss of principal and interest, as well as expense and indefinite postponement of claims," which would result from a receivership.

DEFICIT LAST YEAR

Receivers Make Report on Condition of Road—$3,781,755 Net Income in 1930.

The annual report of the Wabash Railway Co. made public today by Walter S. Franklin and Frank C. Nicodemus Jr., receivers, shows a deficit for 1931 of $7,050,746, compared with net income of $2,781,755 in 1930. The figures are after provision for taxes and interest on debt.

The Wabash was placed in receivership last Dec. 1 because of inability to meet maturing obligations such as interest and principal on funded debt obligations, pay rolls and bills for materials and supplies. The receivers since have obtained a loan of $7,100,000 from the Government's Reconstruction Finance Corporation on an application, still pending, for a total of $18,500,000.

Railway operating revenue of the Wabash last year was $49,163,325, compared with $51,970,751 in 1930, a decrease of 20.67 per cent. Freight revenue decreased $10,721,645 from $52,247,176 to $41,525,531, a drop of 20.62 per cent. Passenger revenue was off 25 per cent.

Operating expenses were reduced only 11 per cent, amounting to $42,024,254 in 1931 compared with $47,249,762 the year before. Including nonoperating income the road had a gross income of $694,064 before deductions for interest, rent for leased roads and other items. The total of the these deductions was $7,654,811, including interest on funded debt, $6,787,248; interest on unfunded debt, $430,470; rent for leased roads, $436,902.

The company retired $1,912,400 of equipment trust certificates, but was unable to pay $616,000 of such certificates maturing Dec. 1. These were paid in February by the receivers from proceeds of the Reconstruction Corporation loan.

$60,000 SUIT CAUSES SUICIDE

CLEVELAND, O., April 18. — A breach of promise suit for $60,000 was said by Coroner Pearce to have caused the suicide yesterday of Arnold L. Stern, 47 years old, president of Cleveland Renovating Co. The Coroner said Stern ended his life by inhaling carbon monoxide fumes from his automobile. Stern was sued last week by Miss Anna L. Peretz, his former office manager. She said he promised to marry her shortly before the death of his wife in 1929, but that he later refused, telling her, "Don't be a fool." Financial troubles, added to Stern's dependency, the Coroner said.

German Doctor's DOUBLE Treatment For Constipation

Dr. Oestrich, in his private practice, first perfected the intestinal cleanser and prophylactic known as Adlerika. It is a compound of a saline intestinal evacuant found in many famous health springs of Germany, with cascara, buckthorn and other important ingredients. Cascara and buckthorn, a leading scientific authority says, not only produce elimination without pain or discomfort but also act as a tonic to the intestines and so tend to prevent the recurrence of constipation which usually follows the use of many other drugs.

DOUBLE Action
Most laxatives act on lower bowel only, but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels (on both large and small intestine).

And in addition to intestinal cleansing the bactericidal action of Dr. H. L. Shoup of New York shows that Adlerika greatly reduces the disease breeding germs in the intestines.

Often the FIRST spoonful of Adlerika brings out surprising old poisonous matter which you never would believe was in your system and which may have caused gas or other stomach trouble.

Adlerika acts gently because it contains no aloes, senna or harmful narcotics. Get a bottle today, in a few hours you'll feel the amazing cleansing effect of this German doctor's remedy. Sold by leading druggists.

Take this to any druggist and get the discount on your first bottle only 15c each for this, but only if you pay cash. Write him name and address plainly with each coupon. ADLERIKA CO., Dept. 44, St. Paul, Minn.

ROBBERS SLUG GROVER WHO IGNORES ORDER

Jacob Rubinstein Suffers Skull Injury at 2001 Wash; Two Men Get Nothing.

Jacob Rubinstein, a grocer of 2001 Wash street, suffered a skull injury when he resisted two Negroes in an attempted holdup at his store at noon yesterday.

The grocer was preparing to leave the store when the robbers, one carrying a revolver, entered and ordered him back into the place. He disregarded the command and was struck on the head with the revolver. The robbers then fled without taking anything. A suspect was arrested several hours later, but Rubinstein could not identify him, although a witness said he had seen the suspect run out of the store.

Hardware Store Owner Robbed of $28 on Leasing Shop.
Robert Pitman, 6037 Horton place, was leaving his hardware store last night when two armed men robbed him of $28.

Clara de Hart, 4115 Linton avenue, and a young woman were walking to his automobile parked in the rear of 2675 West Pine boulevard early yesterday when an armed Negro took a watch and $4 from De Hart.

Getting out of his automobile to go to a restaurant near Grand boulevard and Enright avenue, Denby Sands, 4407 Labadie avenue, was robbed of $24.50 and the machine by three men, one of them armed. The automobile was recovered.

David Berger, 7338 Pershing avenue, and Miss Jean Andres, 318 Laurel avenue, were seated in an automobile in front of her home when two armed men entered and forced Berger to drive to a nearby alley. He was robbed of $14.70 and the young woman of $1.

Another appearance early today by the "robbers" burglar, a young man dressed only in underclothing, was reported by Miss Elvera Fuchs, 3916A Louisiana avenue, who said the intruder entered her second floor room. When she screamed he fled to a bathroom window, against which he had placed a ladder taken from a neighbor's yard. As in the case of most of his visits to homes during the last six months, the burglar took nothing.

A small safe at the Arcadia Dance Hall, 3515 Olive street, was broken open last night and $20 taken. A larger safe which contained receipts for the week-end was overlooked.

An automobile, tools and accessories, all valued at $285, were stolen by burglars from the F. M. Roehk Spring Co., 1423 Clark avenue. The University Smoke Shop, 607 1/2 North Grand boulevard, was entered with a duplicate key and $40 stolen from the cash register.

Following a robbery Saturday night in which a young man who held his hand in his pocket took a watch, 3 cents and a Mexican coin from James Leahy, a watchman for the Washash Railroad at Hodiamont avenue and Olive Street road, police cruised the neighborhood in radio cars and arrested a young man whom Leahy identified. The officers reported the stolen property was found in the young man's possession.

Two robbery suspects arrested at 1445 Cockrell street Saturday night were identified by Jerome A. Wilkerson, proprietor of a drug store at 2801 North Kingshighway, as two of the three robbers who took $250 and narcotics in a holdup March 24.

POLICE TRY SKILL ON MOVIE TARGETS

Three "Scenarios" Made by Lieut. Bosch's New System to Test Aim.

Shots fired by police at motion pictures in which robberies are enacted, have convinced Lieut. Nick Bosch, drillmaster and revolver coach of the St. Louis Police Department, that he has a successful method for developing not only accurate shooting but "protective shooting" as well for all members of the force.

The movies, made of an all-police cast, stop after each shot as a result of a microphone device, permitting the marksmen to see whether or not he hit his man. Only three of the 50 "scenarios" have been completed. As each one lasts only two minutes there is just about time enough for 10 quick shots.

During this time the "criminals" run down streets and through alleys, stopping behind telephone poles and ash pits and in hallways to fire at pursuers, then climb fences or jump on a moving automobile to disappear in the distance. Although the screen target is only 15 yards away from the police marksmen, the size of the figures makes the shooting equivalent to that done at 100 yards.

Patrolman Paul Spavor, who last year defeated all contestants in shooting at dodging silhouettes at the national matches at Camp Perry, got eight hits and two missed of the seven best shots on the force, made the next best record with seven hits and three misses.

Officers who have passed the revolver qualification course, but are not exceptional, shoot generally, made from two to five hits out of the 10 possible.

The movie targets, Lieut. Bosch believes, will check the tendency sometimes developed by good marksmen of taking too long in getting the sights lined up, waiting for a good shot, and squeezing the trigger too long. Co-ordination between the mind, eye and trigger finger is expected to be developed to much higher degree than could be attained by shooting at stationary targets.

In other "scenarios," which Bosch will have made, even more difficult situations will be filmed. In some the marksmen will be required to make a quick draw from the scabbard instead of starting from the customary target stance.

AIRPLANES TO BE USED IN OBSERVING ECLIPSE

Northwestern University to Make New Tests of Einstein Predictions.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 18.—Balloons and airplanes will be used by Northwestern University in making observations during the total eclipse of the sun on Aug. 31.

Dr. Oliver Justin Lee, associate professor of astronomy, said atmospheric and temperature tests will be made by which it is hoped certain predictions of Albert Einstein may be proved or disproved.

The Northwestern University tests will be made at Fryburg, Me. Airplanes will carry observers above any clouds that might obscure vision.

Aerological instruments will be placed in several balloons to record data in the first 1000 feet of altitude. Above them will soar airplanes carrying additional instruments. Dr. Lee is negotiating to obtain a special United States navy plane to operate at 20,000 feet.

Capt. Barnett Harris of the United States Army Signal Service, an experienced photographer of eclipses, will be with the expedition. His plane will carry four motion picture cameras.

"In the mathematical reduction of photographs taken to test whether the light of stars passing near the sun is deflected according to Einstein's predictions," Dr. Lee said, "it has been necessary to make assumptions about the refraction in the atmosphere of the earth. No series of observation has ever been made to find out what happens to pressure and temperature during an eclipse."

The total eclipse will be visible in the Province of Quebec and the northeastern corner of the United States and out over the Atlantic at Cape Cod.

Auto Hits Street Car; Two Killed.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 18.—Two persons, one of them a 16-year-old girl, were killed last night and two others were injured when an automobile struck three pedestrians and then crashed into a street car. The dead are John Davis, driver of the automobile and Miss Duse, Clavanian. Two young women walking with Miss Clavanian were seriously hurt. Davis swerved the automobile unsuccessfully to avoid striking them, and hit the street car.

BRITON SPEAKS AT OPENING OF ZINC INSTITUTE

Economist Discusses Difficulties in Trying to Restrict Output to Meet Lower Demand and Prices

Difficulties of the zinc industry in attempting to restrict production to meet declining consumption and lower prices were discussed today by Oliver W. Roskill of London, England, economist and member of the British Non-Ferrous Metals Research Association, at the opening meeting of the three-day convention of the American Zinc Institute at Hotel Statler.

About 100 delegates representing miners, smelters and fabricators of zinc from all sections of the country are attending. The institute has met in St. Louis each year, with one exception, since it was organized in 1918.

Roskill said that the galvanizing industry had exhibited the greatest contraction in demand for zinc products during the present economic depression. The principal subject under consideration at the convention is the institute's educational campaign to promote the use of heavy galvanizing of standard specifications.

Increase in Production.
The average annual increase in production of zinc for the period of 1925 to 1930 was 5.9 per cent.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Roskill said, compared with an annual increase in consumption of 5.3 per cent. The larger production was due chiefly to the development of new refining processes and the discovery of new ore reserves through increased prospecting.

World production last year, the speaker said, was 10 per cent of the 1929 total, the figure for the United States being 48 per cent and for the rest of the world, 54 per cent. Citing figures to show the increase was greater outside this country, Roskill said the United States produced 39 per cent of the world output in 1929 as against 59 per cent in 1920.

Discussing plans for control of production, particularly as exemplified by European cartels, Roskill said there were two main forces opposing the success of international control of the industry. One producer, not a member of the restrictive association, might disrupt the entire organization through price cutting, he said. Secondly, the interests of European countries were not identical with those of the rest of the world, he continued, inasmuch as Europe was capable of smelting more than enough zinc for its own consumption, but was largely dependent on ores imported from elsewhere.

While the zinc industry was perhaps in a better statistical position than other nonferrous industries, he said, it has not kept pace in research and development of new uses for the metal. With present low prices as an inducement, the industry should attempt to expand consumption through developing a wider range of requirements for the metal, he concluded.

Wider uses for zinc in die castings and sprayed metallic coatings were discussed by W. M. Peirce, L. E. Kunkler and R. E. Axline.

New Directors Elected.

A. J. Bien spoke on the industry's traffic problems. L. P. Larsen discussed the Metalline Falls Mining District and R. J. Stroup told of a new milling project in the Tri-State District.

Directors to serve three years on a board of 25 were elected as follows: Arthur Thacher of St. Louis; Edward W. Furst, Cleveland; John A. Robinson, Miami, Ok.; F. C. Wallower, Joplin; Benno Elkan, Benjamin, Lissberger, Kenneth Brownell, B. N. Zimmer and Ralph M. Roosevelt, all of New York. Roosevelt is president of the institute.

Tomorrow's meeting will be devoted to discussions of the institute's campaign for the use of a standard heavy galvanizing through its "seal of quality," and of the farmer's need for galvanized sheetings.

W. E. McCourt, assistant chancellor and professor of geology at Washington University, will speak at the annual banquet tomorrow night. The convention will close Wednesday afternoon after six addresses of a technical nature.

TEETH WHITEN 3 Shades
in 3 days

If you think yellow, stained, unsightly-looking teeth are natural, start using Kolynos—a half-inch of this amazing dental cream on a dry brush twice daily. In 3 days you'll see your mistake. Your teeth will look 3 shades whiter!

Kolynos—unlike any preparation you've ever used—contains two important ingredients that clean and whiten teeth remarkably. One—the finest cleansing agent known—erases stain and tartar, foams into every tiny fissure and washes away decay-causing debris. While the other ingredient kills the millions of germs that cause most tooth and gum troubles and helps to make teeth absolutely clean. Thus Kolynos gently cleans teeth right down to the natural white enamel and soon makes them more attractive than ever. It refreshes the mouth and stimulates the gums. Buy a tube of Kolynos today.

Farmer, Who Was Draining Fuel, and Stranded Motorist Perish in Fire at Muskegon, Mich.

By the Associated Press.
MUSKEGON, Mich., April 18.—Two men were burned to death last night when one of four men who had stopped at a farm house for gasoline to start their stranded automobile lit a cigarette while the farmer was draining the fuel from his own truck. Charles Mullally, 50 years old, the farmer, died in the fire which destroyed his garage and home. A body believed to be that of John Carlson, Muskegon, one of the four men, was found in the ruins.

Joe Patarse, 35, also of Muskegon, is in Mercy Hospital with burns about his face and legs. Arthur and Leander Johnson were uninjured. Officers said Leander Johnson was intoxicated and arrested him.

The $2 Kroman De Luxe blade has been withdrawn from production. We offer the Blue Super-Blade as its successor. This sensational blade is far superior to the Kroman and costs considerably less. You pay only a few cents more than for the regular blade and get unmatched shaving comfort. The Blue Blade is positively the sharpest blade we have ever manufactured and is made by a different process. A blue color has been applied to the blade for easy identification. It is contained in a blue package, Cellophane wrapped. The Blue Blade is especially made for those who appreciate super-excellence.

PLANS TO CONSERVE
WILD FOWL DISCUSSEDSenate Committee Hears 110 Witnesses on Question—Federal Duck License Proposed.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-205 Kellogg Bldg.
WASHINGTON, April 18.—
Alarmed at the shortage of wild fowl in the United States, members of the special Senate committee on Conservation of Wild Life Resources are studying the recommendations made at the committee's three-day hearing recently by scientists, sportsmen and naturalists, who urged that Congress enact legislation to protect and increase waterfowl.

Committee members are agreed that it would be virtually impossible to enact such legislation this session and are gathering data for bills to be offered next winter. The studies of the committee, however, will be available to the Secretary of Agriculture, the Biological Survey and the Migratory Bird Treaty Advisory Committee when regulations for this year's duck season are written.

Of the 500 persons invited to the committee hearings, 110 came to testify and about 150 others sent letters or briefs giving their ideas on conservation. With the exception of a group of sportsmen from Maryland, virtually all the witnesses said there had been an increasing shortage of wild ducks over a 10-year period, and a noticeable shortage over a 20-year period. The Maryland group was seeking a 90-day season for this year.

Numerous Causes Cited.
Numerous causes were cited for the decrease in water fowl. The advances of civilization, the drouth of the last few years, the increase of predators, such as gulls, and large bag limits were among the reasons given for the present shortage.

The recommendations to the committee by witnesses and correspondents can be grouped under three heads: What the Federal Government can do to conserve wild life; what the State governments can do, and what the sportsmen can do.

Witnesses stated that the restoration of marsh lands by the Federal Government would greatly increase the number of migratory birds.
These witnesses urged that apportations under the Norbeck-Andersen law for the establishment of bird sanctuaries be resumed next year. This law authorized the appropriation of $10,000,000 over an eight-year period for the creation of refuges, feeding and breeding grounds, but the appropriation last year was greatly reduced and was entirely eliminated this year.
At present, the appropriation is $1,200,000 behind schedule.

Another recommendation regarding Federal aid was that the staff of the Biological Survey be increased. The survey now has 24 game protectors scattered over the country. Witnesses declared that this number should be raised to a minimum of 50, and several witnesses said there should be as many as 100 protectors.

The committee found that State governments could aid materially in conservation by co-operating with the Federal Government in patrol service, by establishing small concentration areas and by making their duck seasons coincide with the Federal season. Several witnesses reported that in some states administrative officers were indifferent and even apathetic toward conservation.

When the committee came to the question of what the sportsmen could do to conserve wild fowl it found itself in a controversy between the American Game Association and the More Game Birds in America Foundation.

Favors Duck Shooting License.
The American Game Association favors a Federal duck shooting license of a dollar a year. The More Game Birds group is sponsoring the bill introduced in the House by Representative McCormack of Massachusetts providing a 1 cent tax on shotgun shells. About 90 per cent of the witnesses favored the Federal license plan.

The objections to the shell tax were that less than 25 per cent of shotgun shells were used on migratory game; that the tax would increase the price of shells from 25 to 30 per cent, and that the administration of the law would be complicated both for the Federal and State governments.

The principal spokesman for the dollar-a-year license was George W. McCullough of Minneapolis, chairman of the Council of Conservation. He proposed that the licenses be sold at postoffices.
Interest in the hearings rivaled that aroused by the Senate Finance Committee's discussions of the pending tax bill.

The witnesses included Paul G.
Redington, chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey; Harry S. New, former Postmaster-General; John R. Cunningham, Kansas City; John H. Ross, Jefferson City, State Game and Fish Commissioner; Ray Holland, New York; editor of Field and Stream; Richard Shapleigh, St. Louis; G. G. Brandenburg, the Island Club, Chicago; William T.
Hornaday, Stamford, Conn., chairman of the Permanent Wild Life Protection Fund; T. Gilbert Pearson, president, National Association of Audubon Societies; Seth Gordon, Washington, president, American Game Association; Dr. J. C.
Phillips, Boston, president, Massachusetts Fish and Game Commission; Col. Arthur Foran of the More Game Birds in America Foundation, and Willoughby Walling of the Isaac Walton League.

DETROIT LEGION
CHIEF ADVOCATES
CASH BONUS BILLEstimates That 15 Pct of City's Unemployed Are War Veterans—Trainmen
Indorse Plan.OPPOSITION TO BE HEARD TOMORROWAfter Their Testimony Is Concluded, Former Senator Owen Will Appear in Rebuttal.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Final arguments for cashing the soldiers' bonus were begun today before the House Ways and Means Committee
by advocates marshaled by Representative Patman (Dem., Texas).

Patman told the committee he hoped to conclude shortly after noon, enabling the opposition to begin its arguments tomorrow morning.

After the opposition concludes, Patman said, advocates of the money expansion plan will present former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma in rebuttal.

David V. Addy, Detroit, representative of the Wayne County Council of the American Legion, including 52 posts, was today's first witness.

"Detroit has suffered greater injury from bad economic conditions than any other area," Addy said.
"In the last three years Detroit has spent $25,000,000 on welfare, and this does not include the huge sums spent by private charities."

600,000 Needy in Detroit.
Addy said 600,000 persons in Detroit were dependent, at least partly, on charity.

"The Legion is spending large sums trying to find jobs for its members," he testified. "Our records show that hundreds of veterans have been out of work for two years."

"Under the circumstances, these men look to the adjusted service certificates as their last resort."

"Sentiment for immediate payment has grown rapidly in Michigan. The delegation to the Detroit convention last June voted 22 for and 13 against immediate payment. Just a month ago the Michigan Legion department voted 15 to 1 for immediate payment."

Addy estimated that 15 to 20 per cent of the Detroit unemployed are veterans.

W. D. Jackson, spokesman for the Brotherhood of Railway Train-men, said relief measures so far enacted by Congress have not helped business. "We feel that the bonus should be paid immediately.
If you pay this bonus, you will do just in part what you already have done for the railroads and big corporations," Jackson said.

Representative Sweeney (Dem., Ohio), said his constituents were for the bonus payment and that Ohio would receive $117,000,000 if the payment were made. "Better an unbalanced budget than revolution," he said.

Edward C. McConnell of New York City, said he was a chauffeur for the general staff in France during the war.

"I was one of six assigned to Black Jack Pershing after Eddie Rickenbacker left to go into the air service," he said. "I was assigned to drive Herbert Hoover when he directed Belgian food relief and drove him over a 100-mile road here trying to get a place; I had been a chauffeur in New York for 13 years."

Chang was secretary to the President, and he advised me to take a civil service examination. I did and passed it with 97 per cent. I went to see Gen. Pershing. His secretary emphasized that I should not ask for work or money from him with my troubles. I lived up to that promise.
I believe the only way to help the country is to pay the bonus and let it go to those that need it."

While McConnell testified he passed the committee members copies of letters recommending his services from former employers and an autographed picture of Gen.
Pershing. He said a Connecticut
Senator had purchased his return fare to New York City.

"I am going back," McConnell testified. "I won't have any more home there than I have here. I apply again to the Department of Charities for help."

Recalls Dearborn Riot.
J. H. Hoepfner, editor of the Retired Men's News, Arcadia, Cal., said "the attitude of the American Legion, divorced of the highbrows is 99 per cent in favor of the bonus payment."

"The Legion," he said, "through its official publication is seeking to intimidate the membership from taking any action on the bonus.
Since I came to Washington the National Judge Advocate General of the Legion has tried to intimidate me because I am for the benefit."

Fred Beard of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said: "I have done soon many Americans recently."

Patman, summarizing the testimony of Representative
(Rep.), said California
testimony
tomorrow.

DETROIT LEGION CHIEF ADVOCATES CASH BONUS BILL

Estimates That 15 Pct of City's Unemployed Are War Veterans—Trainmen Indorse Plan.

OPPONENTS TO BE HEARD TOMORROW

After Their Testimony Is Concluded, Former Senator Owen Will Appear in Rebuttal.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 18.—Final arguments for cashing the soldiers' bonus were begun today before the House Ways and Means Committee in advocates marshaled by Representative Patman (Dem., Texas).

Patman told the committee he hoped to conclude shortly after noon, enabling the opposition to the $2,000,000,000 payment to be tomorrow morning.

After the opposition concludes, Patman said, advocates of the money expansion plan will present former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, in rebuttal.

David V. Addy, Detroit, representative of the Wayne County Council of the American Legion, including 52 posts, was today's first witness.

"Detroit has suffered greater injury from bad economic conditions than any other area," Addy said. "In the last three years Detroit has lost $2,000,000,000 on welfare, and that does not include the huge sums spent on private charities."

600,000 needy in Detroit, Addy said 600,000 persons in Detroit were dependent, at least partly, on charity.

"The Legion is spending large sums trying to 'fix' the problem," he testified. "Our records show that hundreds of veterans have been out of work for two years."

"Under the circumstances, these men look to the adjusted service certificates as their last resort. 'Sentiment for immediate payment has grown rapidly in Michigan. The delegation to the Detroit convention last June voted 23 for and 13 against immediate payment. Just a month ago the Michigan Legion department voted 16 to 1 for immediate payment.'

Admitted that 15 to 20 per cent of the Detroit unemployed are veterans.

W. D. Jackson, spokesman for the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said relief measures so far enacted by Congress have not helped business. "We feel that the bonus should be paid immediately. If you pay this bonus, you will do just in part what you already have done for the railroads and big corporations," Jackson said.

Representative Sweeney (Dem., Ohio) said his constituents were for the bonus payment and that Ohio would receive $117,000,000 if the payment were made. "Better an unbalanced budget than revolution," he said.

War-Time Chauffeur's Story.
Edward C. McConnell of New York City, said he was a chauffeur during the war.

"I was one of six assigned to Black Jack Pershing after Eddie Rickenbacker left to go into the air service," he said. "I was assigned to drive Herbert Hoover when he directed Belgian food relief and drove him for over a year. I came down here trying to get a place. I had been a chauffeur in New York for 25 years."

Lawrence Ritchey, private secretary to the President, and he advised me to take a civil service examination. I did and passed it with 97 per cent. I went to see Gen. Pershing. His secretary emphasized that I should not ask for work or annoy him with my troubles. I lived up to that promise. I believe the only way to help the country is to pay the bonus and let it go to those that need it."

While McConnell testified he passed to committee members copies of letters recommending his services from former employers and an autographed picture of Gen. Pershing. He said a Connecticut Senator had purchased his return fare to New York City.

"I am going back," McConnell testified. "I won't have any more time there than I have here. I must apply again to the Department of Charities for help."

Recalls Dearborn Riot.
J. H. Hoepfel, editor of the Redford Men's News, Arcadia, Cal., said the attitude of the American Legion, divorced of the highbrows is 99 per cent in favor of the bonus payment.

Father Coughlin's Radio Sermons Denounced by Cardinal O'Connell

Boston Archbishop Calls Them "Demagogic" and Asks What Right "Man in Michigan" Has to Talk to Whole World.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BOSTON, April 18.—William Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, severely censured the broadcasting practices of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit priest, in a talk last night.

The cardinal spoke "as a Catholic citizen" before the Guild of St. Apollonia at the University Club. Without mentioning Father Coughlin by name, the prelate condemned the priest's utterances on social and economic themes as "demagogic talk to the poor, in the name of the church, which is for all, rich and poor alike."

Before the days of the radio, Cardinal O'Connell said, any priest desiring to direct affairs outside his parish would have been called to order by his own bishop. "But the radio has brought new problems," he said. "There is a man in Florida or Michigan who talks every Sunday afternoon. He talks to the whole world. What right has he to do this? To whom is he responsible?"

Too Much Talk, He Says.
"We do not like to hear hysterical addresses from ecclesiastics. They receive attention that they do not deserve."

"I am deeply convinced that there is altogether too much talk. It is too serious a time to talk unless something serious and constructive is said something of use to the community. Confusion will not right this problem. Froth, sometimes froth with real poison in it, will not help."

"The Catholic church is a tremendously serious organization. It deals in human souls. You cannot toy with the welfare of humanity. The church is for all. The teachings of Christ's church are for all. The doctrine of the church knows no class. You cannot blow up the church, laugh at the bankers, make sensational accusations against the banks or utter demagogic talk to the poor in the name of the church which is for all, rich and poor alike."

In a talk on the international bankers recently, Father Coughlin said they had been "crystallizing the blood money of war tribute into billions of bonds, offered for sale to the American people."

In recent personal appearances, outside of his radio talk, Father Coughlin has defended Mayor Walker of New York against his critics, and has advocated the soldier bonus proposal, with the proposed inflation of the currency to accompany it.

HITLER FILES LIBEL SUITS AGAINST PUBLISHER AND SELF

Seeks to Discredit Article Quoting Him as Saying France Inspired Barring of Storm Troops.
BERLIN, April 18.—Adolf Hitler filed a libel suit yesterday against Theodor Wolff, publisher and editor of the Berliner Tageblatt, which said Hitler told foreign correspondents France had inspired the Government's barring of his National Socialist (Fascist) storm troops.

Hitler also filed a suit against himself for "breach of duty," declaring that the Tageblatt's story left open to doubt his own trustworthiness as an official.

The suit against himself represented a legal action open to principal and state officials as a means of defending and vindicating themselves in court against unfilled allegations of malfeasance or incompetence in office.

Hitler's move was interpreted as an effort to discredit attacks on him in hostile newspapers. He instructed his attorney Dr. Luetgebrunne, to demand that the authorities suspend him from his duties at the Brunswick State Legion here, where he is an official, until the court cleared his name.

ENVOYS SEE CHINESE WALL

PEIPING, April 18.—Chang Hsiao-liang, War Lord, who once controlled Manchuria, yesterday acted as a guide for a sightseeing tour of the League of Nations Commission investigating Chinese-Japanese difficulties. He led the commissioners to the great wall of China and the Ming Dynasty tombs.

Chang said the 13 Ming Emperors were buried in an enormous amphitheater, each under a 40-foot mound, with special poison guards. According to tradition, if a tomb were opened, the poison would be effective immediately, killing all life near by.

KING AND QUEEN AT WEDDING

LONDON, April 18.—The King and Queen drove down from Windsor Castle today to attend the wedding at Westminster Abbey of Lord Hyde and the Honorable Marian Glynn. He is the son of Lord Clarendon, Governor-General of South Africa. She is the daughter of Lord and Lady Wolverton.

Their majesties conferred an additional honor on the pair by sending separate wedding gifts. The King sent the bridegroom, who is his god son, a magnificent silver bowl. Miss Glynn received a diamond brooch from the Queen.

Foreign Wars, Dearborn, Mich., said: "I fear if something is not done soon we will have troubles in many American cities like we had recently in Dearborn."

Patman closed for the proponents, summarizing the chief arguments for paying the bonus.

INTERIOR DEPT. APPROPRIATION CUT $11,000,000

House Concurs in All Reductions Made by Senate and Sends the Bill to President.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 18.—The House late today accepted the 189 Senate amendments to the Interior Department bill to reduce the total from $50,446,432 to $45,338,760 and sent the measure to the White House.

This almost unheard of procedure obviated the necessity of a conference between the two houses. Only rarely has an appropriation bill been disposed of in the past without such a conference to remove disputes between the Senate and House over amendments.

Speaker Garner permitted Chairman Byrns of the House Appropriations Committee to move that the House accept the Senate's flat 10 per cent reduction on the bill under a suspension of the rules. It required a two-thirds vote for approval.

The bill is the first of the big annual appropriation bills to be sent to the White House for President Hoover's signature.

The House already had cut $5,000,000 off President Hoover's budget estimates of the needs of the Interior Department. With the Senate action and approval by the House, the reduction totals $11,000,000. Last year $23,442,000 was allowed the Interior Department.

The big reductions made by the Senate included $2,000,000 from Boulder Canyon Dam, $1,062,900 from the Bureau of Indian Affairs; $674,000 from the reclamation service, $105,000 from the education office, $400,000 from Howard University and $500,000 from the National Park service roads and trails.

The House Economy Committee today definitely decided to place its retrenchment program into one omnibus bill for submission to the House as a part of the legislative department appropriation measure.

In taking this action, the committee followed the suggestion of President Hoover. It overrode its chairman, Representative McDuffie of Alabama, who had held out for a separate proposal to cut Federal salaries.

Members of the committee said either the McDuffie 11 per cent salary cut proposal or President Hoover's plan for a five-day work week and annual leave without pay for Federal workers would be included in the omnibus bill. No vote has been taken on these two plans.

For Reorganization Commission.
The Senate today adopted a resolution to set up a joint commission previously recommended by the President to study reorganization of Government departments.

The resolution, introduced by Chairman Jones of the Appropriations Committee, was approved without debate or a record vote. Under it the commission would report to Congress within 30 days.

The resolution now goes to the House for consideration.

The commission would be composed of three members of the House, three Senators and three members appointed by the President.

Retrenchment Measures.
Garner said the general sentiment of the Economy Committee favored reporting an omnibus bill calling for retrenchments in Government expenditures to agree with the Senate.

"Now that the Russians have completed their troop concentrations in Eastern Siberia we must expect such provocative incidents," the Foreign Office spokesman said in making public the Harbin Consul's report.

He said Japan was taking a much less alarming view of the situation, than the Soviet Government. "We don't believe a clash is imminent," he said, "and unless Soviet Russia sends troops into Manchuria there is no reason to be alarmed. We certainly have no intention of attacking Russia and we do not believe Russia would be so rash as to challenge Japan."

"If provocative acts like the wreck last week are repeated, however, they undoubtedly will have serious consequences. But we are confident that the Manchukuo Government is taking steps effectively to prevent a repetition."

"Nevertheless, it is idle to close our eyes to the fact that Russia is displaced with what has happened in North Manchuria, which is considered in the Russian sphere of influence. We can understand disappointment of the Russians at seeing their domination there fading permanently."

"We are scrupulously refraining from anything that would be calculated to alarm the Russians further," he said, "or to give them an excuse for action. In spite of the disturbances near the Siberian border we are sending no troops there. Instead, we have asked the Soviet authorities to permit Japanese subjects to take refuge in Soviet territory. This permission has been granted."

ARMED REDUCTION BY SUCCESSIVE STAGES FAVORED

Proposal to Revise Convention at Frequent Intervals, Well Received at Geneva.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, April 18.—A proposal recommending that reduction of armaments be achieved in successive stages received wide approval from the delegates at the world conference here today and was referred to the conference drafting committee.

The proposal, which was presented by the delegations of Spain, Belgium, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Norway, Estonia and Uruguay, provided that successive stages of disarmament be achieved through revisions of the arms reduction convention, at short intervals.

It was supported by the French and Polish delegations, and by Sir John Simon, Naotake Sato and Dano Grandi, chiefs of the British, Japanese and Italian delegations. Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Foreign Commissioner, offered an amendment providing that the first stage of the reduction be substantial.

Ambassador Nodolny of the German delegation expressed dissatisfaction with the proposal because, he said, it did not provide for a radical reduction in the first stage.

Ambassador Cemal Husnu Bey of Turkey restated his country's desire for a realization of equality of armaments.

Secretary of State Stimson was kept at his villa today by a slight cold.

Stimson sought from talks with Germany's representatives yesterday a method of reducing armaments that would be most likely to succeed. He was visited by Chancellor Bruening and Dr. von Buelow.

He said about $200,000,000. He said he favored including in the measure the Byrne bill to consolidate the War and Navy departments. It has been estimated the savings from this would be from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

A "nonpartisan commission" to reorganize the Government in the interest of economy was proposed to the Senate by Senator Logan (Dem., Kentucky). Logan introduced a bill to establish a "commission or court" consisting of the President, the Speaker of the House, the minority leader of the Senate, the Comptroller-General and the director of the budget. He said the Comptroller-General occupied a "nonpartisan office" and observed that since the two parties would be represented equally the commission would function without partisanship.

The Senate today reaffirmed its policy of cutting appropriation bills 10 per cent by ordering a slash in the $1,000,000,000 Treasury-Postoffice supply measure, before the 37 to 81 vote, however, the Senate agreed to a move by Senator Tydings (Dem., Maryland), to exclude from the cut building funds aggregating $110,000,000.

After the funeral, the smugglers, accompanied by a brass band, went to a neighboring village, where the German hymn, "Once I Had a Comrade," was played in front of the houses of a number of customs officials.

The police intervened and the participants will be prosecuted for holding a demonstration without permission.

Made Governor of Indian Province.
PESHAWAR, India, April 18.—Viceroy Earl Willingdon today raised the northwest frontier province to the status of a Governor's province. Lieutenant-Colonel Sir Ralph Griffiths, who has been chief commissioner since last October, Comrade," was played in front of the houses of a number of customs officials.

PORTO RICAN MOB INVADES CAPITOL; STUDENT KILLED

Many in Crowd Injured When Balustrade of Stairway Gives Way Under Pressure of Throng.

By the Associated Press.
SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 18.—A young high school student was killed and many persons were injured, several seriously, yesterday when hundreds of nationalists rioted in protest against a design for Porto Rico's official flag at the new Capitol building.

The mob, estimated at 500 to 1500, armed with stones and fence pickets, swarmed into the building and up stairways to present a protest against the passage by the Senate of a bill making the one-star independence banner the official flag. The Senate has not yet acted on the bill.

As police fought back, a section of the marble balustrade gave way, letting 20 or more persons fall 25 feet to a concrete basement. The shattered marble fell on the others as they retreated.

Pedro Albizu Campos, president of the Nationalist party, and Jose Portilla, a former city Assemblyman, were arrested on charges of inciting to riot.

The raid on the Capitol was preceded by a Nationalist meeting in the principal plaza to observe the birthday anniversary of the late Jose de Diego, advocate of independence for Porto Rico and the creation of a Caribbean state through a league of Spanish-speaking islands.

Police Meet Crowd.
Campos announced that he would lead the crowd to the Capitol.

Met by a dozen policemen the crowd ignored an order not to enter the Capitol where the House of Representatives was in session. It surged up the marble steps into the main lobby, then dashed for stairways on either side.

Police made a stand at the stairs, using their clubs to drive the raiders back. Many in the mob, gaining the second floor and were heading the legislative chamber when Police Inspector Berreteaga and his men drove them down stairs.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles: that it will always fight for progress and reform, that it will always fight for justice and equity, that it will always fight for the rights of the people, that it will always fight for the rights of the laborer, that it will always fight for the rights of the farmer, that it will always fight for the rights of the worker, that it will always fight for the rights of the citizen, that it will always fight for the rights of the nation, that it will always fight for the rights of the world.

In Reply to Mr. Lomberger.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

L. LIONBERGER is laboring under an obvious misapprehension when he states that between 1923 and 1929, when the most machines were in operation, the greatest number of workers were employed at the highest wages.

This is directly contrary to statistics gathered by economists who have no axes to grind. George Soule, in the New Republic, declares that during the period of so-called prosperity a fatal lack of balance was developing between industrial production, profits, distribution and popular purchasing power.

He states that during this period, purchasing power, in the form of wages, small salaries and farm incomes, increased at the rate of 1 per cent a year. Distribution and production, on the other hand, were increasing at the rate of 4 per cent, and profits at the startling rate of 9 per cent.

These facts make it obvious that the worker (in whose hands lay the bulk of purchasing power) was not getting his share of the increase. The volume of unemployment was unduly large and alarmed even that optimistic body, the Department of Labor.

With the present method of attempting a solution to this serious problem of unemployment, we are sinking further into chaos. When our chief executive continues to call into conference politicians and representatives of the vested interests, whose sole object seems to be to save themselves first, our plight is truly analogous to the situation of the blind leading the blind. I have vainly watched for any reference to the President consulting any of the men who have advanced even semi-workable plans to allow us to creep out of this terrible muddle.

ALFRED FLEISHMAN.

The Bonus Debate.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

REGARDLESS of our personal opinions on the merits of the bonus, we should shoot square with the facts. One is bound to agree with your editorial and admit that the advocacy of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation by the President opened up holes in the anti-bonus lines big enough for a regimental parade.

However, your statement that if the Government were to cancel the bonus, it cannot refuse grants to others is not sound. The veteran holds what is virtually a promissory note of the United States in payment of a debt long past due. All other war claims and debts have been paid. Not one good reason has been offered why the ex-soldier should wait until 1945.

Unsound arguments have continually been advanced against the bonus and its payment, the effect of which has been to advance the cause of the veteran. A cause which is in itself so inherently fair needs no defense against the truth.

JOSEPH L. REDMOND.

Scores G. O. P. Liquor Plan.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

NO wonder the friends of the Republican State convention were willing to put over the plank for resubmission of the eighteenth amendment. The words of the resolution, "We favor a national convention to be called as speedily as possible, in accordance with the Federal Constitution," was framed with cunning in the dry interest, because it means, according to Article of the Constitution, that to get a national constitutional convention authorized by Congress, 32 state legislatures will have to petition Congress to call such a convention. And, as State Representative Elmer said about such a method, we would all be dead and gone before repeal could be so brought about.

What would have been satisfactory to those who really want repeal or an early referendum would have been a simple declaration for repeal, and not any suggestion that a national convention be called. Under the fifth article, Congress has full power to propose amendments, and then to submit them for ratification either to the state legislatures, or to state conventions, as it may elect. To follow the tedious procedure of getting 32 state legislatures to petition Congress for a national constitutional convention for a national convention is to keep it in our generation. It is to be hoped that no other political body in favor of a legal expression of the will of the people on prohibition will be tempted to do what the Missouri Republicans have done.

Representative Fish's Campaign.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

REPRESENTATIVE FISH is very busy pushing his pet bills in Congress to deport alien radicals, bar radical literature from the mails and otherwise "stamp out agitators" in these United States.

When in all history has force ever stamped out agitators or cured discontent? The only cure for hunger is food, the only cure for unemployment is jobs, the only cure for discontent is to deport starvation, high taxes, low wages, unemployment and domestic insecurity.

SOCIALIST.

BACK TO THE PEOPLE.

The popular word of the hour in the prohibition discussion is re submission. The word unquestionably records a change in sentiment. Many opponents of prohibition count a re submission paragraph in a set of political resolutions as an advance. The dyes, when they agree to it, are admittedly making a concession.

But the truth is this word re submission is only a term of momentary strategy. It is compromise. It is evasion. It will settle nothing. It will presently have to be abandoned. The necessity of preserving our constitutional structure will compel its abandonment. It will require us to face this issue, not by detours which will prolong the ferment indefinitely, but by the procedure laid down in the organic law. Congress will have to pass a repeal resolution and refer it to the states, which will accept it either by conventions or by their legislatures, as Congress may provide. That is the honest way, and the only way. Certain political action must, of course, pave the way.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, speaking as a Republican, put it clearly and tersely, in an interview a day or two ago. "There will be no pussyfooting or straddling on modification," he said. He will, he declared, introduce the same resolution at Chicago that he presented at Kansas City, and will see to it "that it is put to a roll call," which it did not get four years ago. It will unequivocally demand repeal of the eighteenth amendment, and Dr. Butler is confident it will be adopted.

We shall not attempt to forecast what either of the parties will do in its national convention, but everybody knows that Dr. Butler will be in much better position to press his case at Chicago than he was at Kansas City, and to a much more sympathetic and thoughtful audience.

It is a different world today from that of four years ago, a sadder and a wiser world. The predominant point of difference is economic. The Government is in straitened financial circumstances. Congress and the administration are engaged in the hard task of balancing the budget. Rigorous economies must be introduced into the public service, but, as everyone knows, heavier taxes will have to be imposed. And, no matter how those taxes are levied, we shall all, directly or indirectly, have to pay them.

Yet if the eighteenth amendment were repealed and the liquor business legalized and the revenue, which now enriches the underworld and finances its vast, ramifying operations, were diverted to the Government, we should be relieved of this oppressive tax burden. That is the judgment of outstanding economists and tax experts.

Thus it is a practical question of imperative urgency. As such we must deal with it as a practical people. There is no place in the discussion of the prohibition issue now for epithets, or emotionalism, or recrimination. There is no time for plugging the people with impotent canvasses like the re submission device. Prohibition has been tried. It has made its record. The people know whether they want to go on with it or get rid of it. The representatives of the people should send it squarely back to the people.

The crisis, it seems to us, peculiarly challenges those conscientious representatives who have supported prohibition as a matter of conviction, unflinching quite by its effect on their political fortunes. We have in mind such notable public servants as Senator Norris of Nebraska, Senator Walsh of Montana and Senator Borah of Idaho, for conspicuous example. These men know that prohibition as a legal solution of the liquor traffic is a tragic failure. They know the country's financial plight. They know what the people are saying in the Literary Digest's poll, in which only two states, Kansas and North Carolina, have voted for continuance and by dubiously thin majorities. They know the country as a whole, in that referendum, is for repeal by almost three to one. They know why.

They know, as we all do, that the repeal of the eighteenth amendment will be a difficult task. But shirking a duty because of its difficulty has not been an American custom and we cannot afford to establish such a fatal tradition. The country must look to such men as these to reason with the mere handful of states which could block repeal.

The question should be referred to the American people, fairly, manfully, without subterfuge, in all tolerance and good spirit, and without delay. Fortunately, some of the prohibition leaders themselves are now saying so.

REASON AND TECHNICALITY.

A heartening step in the direction of a legal procedure freed from the strangling toils of technicalities is the opinion of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the case of the Moon Motor Car Co. Written by Judge Kenyon and reversing and remanding a suit of the company against three of its officers, involving payment to themselves out of company funds, the opinion comes out squarely on the side of progress. The court, in finding that the case should have been tried in the equity side rather than the law side of the docket of Federal District Court presided over by Judge Davis, declared:

If we were satisfied, however, that the result reached at law was correct and the same as should be reached in equity, it would be useless, of course, to reverse the judgment and remand it for a trial in equity. The whole tendency of modern legal development is to get away from technical procedure.

It happens that in this case the court was not so satisfied and therefore did remand it. That the court went out of its way to announce that had it been satisfied it would not have stood on technicality and caused further litigation should be gratifying to those interested in the movement to bring the law into harmony with the times.

As to the tint of Miss Victory's gown—a Cardinal flame, or a rich, old Brown?

PASSING OF THE SPOT.

Out with the handkerchiefs, brethren alumni, and let flow tears for the green cap of freshman days. The spot is on its last legs—or perhaps we should say on its last heads. Reports from college campuses here and there indicate the movement to discard it has assumed such proportions that its demise is now only a matter of semesters. This, no doubt, is progress—part of the trend of the times to help the freshman out of his inferiority complex—and as such should be supported. Still, we rise to say a word for that verdant headgear which has been the badge of the collegiate beginner since the days of Erasmus and Horace Mann. As every former wearer will recall, the spot spanned a brief but highly significant period in his career. He bought it under orders, he wore it under threat of hazing, and when spring came, with great glee he tossed it into a tremendous bonfire that was the funeral pyre of his captivity. The spot harmed no one, it helped the co-eds brighten up the campus and, most important, it enabled the professors to tell freshmen from seniors. Its good works, however, have gone the way of all flesh. The deans are going to keep on until it won't be worth while to go to college any more.

CENSORSHIP BY THE POSTOFFICE.

Jury trial now is provided for decision on imported printed matter thought to be seditious, obscene or otherwise inadmissible, displacing the former practice of leaving exclusion or acceptance to the Customs Bureau. Similar opportunity for a fair hearing with regard to such articles in the mails is the purpose of a bill now before Congress, introduced by Senator Cutting of New Mexico. Under the present procedure, decision rests entirely with the Post-office Department. A sender who wishes to contest an exclusion order must prove that the Postmaster concerned has grossly abused his discretion, and also that the material is fit for mailing. Thus, the burden of proof is placed entirely on the defendant. This state of affairs leads the National Council on Freedom from Censorship, sponsor of the bill, to say: "The powers of censorship now given the Postmaster-General by Congress are among the most sweeping exercised by a Federal officer."

With the decision left to official whim, some weird ukases have resulted. Thus, Mary Ware Dennett suffered harassment and persecution when her educational pamphlet on sex was suddenly barred from the mails, a decision later reversed by the Postoffice Department. On one occasion, the Chicago Vice Commission's report was excluded. An anti-Fascist newspaper was held up for printing a news item that the American press carried without molestation. Envelop stickers reading, "Protest Against Marine Rule in Nicaragua," were barred. The conflicting mass of decisions reflects the ideas of the men in office, and frequently results from political pressure.

It is not the intention of the bill's sponsors to open the bars to offensive matter, but rather to remove from the hands of bureaucracy its sweeping control over free press and free communication. Jury trials may likewise result in contradictions, but there will at least have been fair hearings. The power of censorship is too vital to liberty to be entrusted to the caprice of officialdom.

The stock market is making us all believe there is such a thing as the bottomless pit.

ST. PAUL'S POLICE GO MODERN.

An excellent example of what modern methods do for a police department lies in the experience of St. Paul. The difficulties facing 331 officers, mostly on foot, in policing a city of 271,000 population were obvious to Thomas A. Brown when he became Chief of Police there two years ago. Holdup men, burglars, liquor runners and racketeers, using motor cars in their depredations and their escapes, had a great advantage over men walking beats. So Chief Brown took most of his men off the pavements and put them into automobiles, equipped not only with weapons but also with first-aid equipment and fire extinguishers. The next obvious step was to direct this motorized force by installing radio, and this was done. So convinced is Chief Brown of the value of centralization in a city of St. Paul's size that he even abolished the precinct stations, and has all his men operating out of headquarters.

The results have been excellent, in both efficiency and economy. Speedier arrival on the scene of crimes has enabled the police to capture more criminals and solve more cases than before. Payroll robberies and bank holdups have become almost obsolete. Traffic is handled more efficiently. Even with purchase of all the necessary equipment, it has been possible to save money, partly through reducing the number of policemen required. Abolishing the precinct stations eliminated the need for many Captains and Lieutenants.

Other cities that wish to modernize their police forces, but fear the expense, should profit by St. Paul's experience.

And what's become of the old-time political splinter who used to rant about the high cost of living?

FEWER RODENTS BUT MORE INSECTS.

Those Western and Mid-Western states that now are threatened with a recurrence of last summer's grasshopper plague will have the Government to thank in part for the visitation, if it arrives. And it seems likely to occur, for investigators have found large deposits of grasshopper eggs in Nebraska soil, with 90 per cent of the eggs in healthful condition.

It is the plausible contention of Prof. A. B. Howell, Johns Hopkins University, that the Government's activities in exterminating rodents has given the insects a great advantage. Rodents such as gophers, ground squirrels and field mice, he pointed out in a letter to Senator McNary of Oregon, dig up and devour the eggs of grasshoppers, locusts, cut worms, beetles, army worms and other pests. They are the chief enemies of insects in many Western states, where insectivorous birds are scarce. Yet the Biological Survey has been spending some $600,000 a year to poison the rodents. On the other front, conferees in Congress recently approved addition of $1,450,000 to the Agriculture Department appropriation to buy poisoned bait for grasshoppers.

A costly instance of insect depredations was the cricket plague in Northwestern Colorado, where three years ago homesteaders lost their crops and were forced to flee before the invasion. Congress appropriated $2,000,000 to stamp out the crickets, and the fight now has been successful, temporarily at least. Man's efforts to destroy the balance of nature often result in such visitations as these. Without its natural enemies, any harmful species increases enormously. In this choice of evils, the rodents assuredly are to be preferred. The present budget crisis is additional reason to call off the egregious war on rodents.

Hugh L. Cooper says Russia would have bought goods enough in the United States last year, if we'd let her, to keep 100,000 persons employed. Won't some "best mind" take a few minutes off to explain?

If, as reported, Lloyd George is to retire from politics to devote his time to writing and farming, he will demonstrate that the pen is mightier than the plow.

HERE THEY COME!

In Defense of the Trade Commission

Federal trade body was founded to direct enforcement of anti-trust law and prevent unfair competition; it protects public from many evil practices; one decision alone, overturning Pittsburgh-plus system, saves farmers $30,000,000 a year; effort to abolish or curb commission comes when highly important inquiries are under way.

From an Address in the House by Representative French of Idaho.

WITHIN the last several days two communications have come to my desk bearing upon the Federal Trade Commission. In one, appeal is made to abolish the commission, alleging that it is ineffective and that its work is useless. In the other, appeal is made for broadening the scope and powers of the commission because of the splendid service it is rendering to the people of the United States. I rise to make brief inquiry into the worth-while character of this institution.

Going back a little more than 40 years ago, the country realized that a very rapid change was occurring in certain of the economic factors in America. Instead of the small, individual producer, manufacturer and business man of the preceding generations, the people had come to realize that capital was being massed as never before. Companies and corporations were springing up and expanding to carry on the activities in all important lines that for centuries had been carried on either by individuals or partnerships or by companies of small capital. It was a disturbing phenomenon.

There were fewer concerns manufacturing farm machinery in 1930 than there had been in 1870; fewer sawmills, fewer factories for the fabrication of cotton and woolen goods, boots and shoes, and many of the essential commodities of life. On the other hand, measured in capital, there was the reverse. Business was expanding and capital was increasing by leaps and bounds. Trade was being stifled, competition was being driven out, and a condition was being brought about through which a few concerns of great wealth and power were threatening domination of what had theretofore been a free market.

The answer was the Sherman Anti-trust Act of July 2, 1890. The object of this law was to prevent the control of trade through combination. The act provided that "every combination in the form of trust or otherwise or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign countries is hereby declared to be illegal."

Just when was an agreement in restraint of trade? Lawyers and courts were not agreed. Decisions that were rendered seemed not always in accord with prior decisions.

Could we not set up a body that could take leadership, that could point the way—a body that, first of all, would seek ways by which business could be brought to conform itself to the public interest through the observance of the law? The answer was the act creating the Federal Trade Commission, Sept. 26, 1914. By this act, unfair methods of competition in commerce were declared unlawful.

It is the duty of the Federal Trade Commission to prevent practices, partnerships or corporations (except banks and common carriers, which were under other laws) from using unfair methods of competition in commerce. When it believes that such persons are engaged in unfair practices, it is the duty of the commission to make complaint and to conduct hearings. It may order persons found violating the laws to cease and to desist from using unfair methods. It may modify its orders up to the time it files its

Rising White House Costs

From the Baltimore Evening Sun.

RETURNING from Indianapolis, where he had made a political speech, Secretary of War Hurley crashed at Richmond, Ind., and smashed up an army plane worth $65,000. This led Representative Collins, chairman of the War Department subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, to make some sour comment on jobholders who use expensive army planes as unofficial business.

But is Hurley really so much to blame? After all, it is altogether human for a Secretary to follow the guidance of his chief, and if Hurley throws money around lavishly, he has a notable example to follow. Expenses at the White House have run up quite as fast as expenses at the War Department.

In the last year of the Wilson administration, when war-time inflation had driven the prices of everything to terrific heights, it cost $229,000 to run the White House. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1925—that is to say, in the midst of the Coolidge regime—it cost $397,000. The appropriation for 1932 is $553,000.

The reasons for this increase become apparent when some examination is made of details. Mr. Wilson, if we mistake not, managed to get along with six automobiles. Mr. Coolidge used nine. Mr. Hoover has 11. Mr. Coolidge, like Wilson, had one secretary, whom he paid $7500 a year. Mr. Hoover has three, each of whom draws $10,000.

During the war a detail of District police guarded the White House at a cost of $95,000. But after the war it took only 22 White House police to protect Mr. Coolidge. They cost $55,000. To protect Mr. Hoover, 48 are required, at a cost of $120,000.

Mr. Coolidge's contingent fund was $750,000. Mr. Hoover's is $1,000,000. Maintenance of the White House establishment, including servants, groundkeepers, dogs, greenhouses and so on, cost Mr. Coolidge, $98,600 a year. Mr. Hoover asks $185,000 for next year.

If Secretary Hurley has observed what his chief is doing in the way of spending money, what more natural than for the Secretary to assume that it is quite all right for him occasionally to use a $65,000 army plane when he goes around making political speeches?

ANOTHER ADVANTAGE.

From Life.

The proposal is made that our Army and Navy be consolidated. It might give them a pretty good football team.

Testing the public from outrages performed by unscrupulous concerns. Two investigations are under way at this time, the inquiry into power and gas utilities and chain stores. Both of these investigations are of highest importance and should be carried forward. To meet the need, the committee has recited that $300,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be applied particularly for the work under these two headings, work that is already under way. Unless this study may be carried off, there will be rendered useless a vast amount of work that is already far advanced and which has cost the Government a vast amount of money.

In conclusion, it is my earnest judgment that an examination of the record of the commission during the 18 years of its operation will justify many times over the amount of money we have been called upon to expend for the carrying forward of that activity, for the protection of the rights and interests and trade conditions of the people of America.

CAPT. REDMOND DIES AT GRAVE OF FRIEND

Irish Independent Nationalist Was Supporter of Cosgrave, Defeated for Re-Election.

By the Associated Press.
WATERFORD, Irish Free State, April 18.—Capt. William A. Cosgrave, Irish Independent Nationalist, died yesterday at the grave of a friend, Capt. Redmond, who was 64 years old.

Capt. Redmond was the son of the famous Nationalist leader, the late John E. Redmond, and a supporter of William Cosgrave in his recent Government policies. He was the Republican victor in the Free State in the recent elections. Capt. Redmond was re-elected by the southeastern county seat.

The noted attorney was attending the funeral of his friend, P. F. Hogan, who died in a Waterford street Thursday, and had gone to the grave when he collapsed.

Capt. Redmond was educated at King's College, Dublin, and began a career at the bar in 1911.

Long before the creation of the Irish Free State, Capt. Redmond was a member of the British Parliament from East Tyrone, beginning his service in 1919 and remaining there until 1922.

In 1918 he became a member of Parliament for Waterford and served until 1922, when the Anglo-Irish treaty created the Free State. He then became an Independent member of the Dail Eireann, a post which he held continuously since.

Capt. Redmond for several years led the Nationalist deputies in the Dail and was once mentioned as an opponent to Cosgrave for the presidency.

STOCKS NEAREST TURNOVER IN MANY WEEKS

Several Leading Issues Are Carried Into New Low Ground for the 1929-32 Decline—Sales Under 1,000,000 Shares.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The stock market had a quiet, steady spell today, carrying several leading issues into new low ground for the 1929-32 decline, but trading dwindled to the smallest volume in weeks. The turnover was well under $1,000,000 shares, the lowest since several months ago, and only four points. The closing tone was heavy.

Once more the market suffered from almost complete lack of buying interest. The few buyers who were active were limited to a few shares of a few issues. With the week-end falling to bring out anything further in the way of encouraging news, traders found no reason for trying to press the recovery of last week further. Even the bond market, which had been active for several days of brisk advances. The placing of names of short sellers before the Senate Banking Committee failed to fortify the market.

American Telephone was under considerable pressure. It declined nearly four points to par, touching that level for the first time since 1921. United States Steel declined two points to 34, and General Electric, 31. Eastman was a weak feature, off more than four. American Can broke nearly four points and issues off one to two included General Electric, Du Pont, Santa Fe, North American and Public Service of New Jersey. Ralls had a momentary upturn in the late morning, but advances were soon lost, although this group was fairly steady at the close.

C. & O. Report Helps Ralls. Commodities were also somewhat reactionary. Wheat futures slipped back 1/4 to 1 1/4 a bushel, partly in sympathy with stocks, and a decline in foreign markets. Corn lost 1/4 to 1/2 a cent, and cotton with losses of 3/4 to 4 1/4 a bale.

Foreign exchanges were mixed. The French francs was a shade higher for a time, but most of the day was largely unchanged. It fell above the gold point this week, and sterling was up about a cent, and the Canadian dollar 1/4.

The rails received some stimulation from first report of March earnings. Chesapeake & Ohio reported net operating income of $2,866,022, a gain of about $500,000 over a year previously. Other favorable aspect of the railroad outlook was the Interstate Commerce Commission's special report urging co-ordination of railway and motor traffic and Federal regulation of motor vehicles operating in interstate traffic. On the other hand, it was expected that this week's report of the movement of revenue freight would again be unfavorable.

Bankers continued to give a large part of their study to the probable results of the Federal Reserve policy of buying Government bonds with a view to forcing excess reserves of member banks into other investment channels.

Further evidence of the decline in earnings of copper companies for 1931 was furnished by the reports of three Anaconda Copper subsidiaries, which, without exception, reflected unfavorably on the 1931 statements.

The latest General Reichenbach statement showed further loss of gold holdings, which reduced the Reichenbach ratio to 24.1 against 25.9 per cent the week before.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 18.—Trading was restricted on the Stock Exchange, pending the budget report but gilt-edged securities were maintained and industrial and brewery issues also improved. Continental selling was uncertain and transatlantic shares contributed toward an irregular close.

PARIS, April 18.—All classes were weak on the Bourse, the closing being heavy.

BERLIN, April 18.—The Boerse closed generally firm today, despite a Reichbank report showing a decline in the Reichbank's gold and foreign exchange coverage had dropped below 1,000,000,000 marks to 988,000,000 marks.

Exchange Set $82,000.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Arrangements were made for the sale of a New York Stock Exchange membership at $25,000, an increase of $1000 over the record low for recent years recorded about a week ago.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The stock market had a quiet, steady spell today, carrying several leading issues into new low ground for the 1929-32 decline, but trading dwindled to the smallest volume in weeks. The turnover was well under $1,000,000 shares, the lowest since several months ago, and only four points. The closing tone was heavy.

Once more the market suffered from almost complete lack of buying interest. The few buyers who were active were limited to a few shares of a few issues. With the week-end falling to bring out anything further in the way of encouraging news, traders found no reason for trying to press the recovery of last week further. Even the bond market, which had been active for several days of brisk advances. The placing of names of short sellers before the Senate Banking Committee failed to fortify the market.

American Telephone was under considerable pressure. It declined nearly four points to par, touching that level for the first time since 1921. United States Steel declined two points to 34, and General Electric, 31. Eastman was a weak feature, off more than four. American Can broke nearly four points and issues off one to two included General Electric, Du Pont, Santa Fe, North American and Public Service of New Jersey. Ralls had a momentary upturn in the late morning, but advances were soon lost, although this group was fairly steady at the close.

C. & O. Report Helps Ralls. Commodities were also somewhat reactionary. Wheat futures slipped back 1/4 to 1 1/4 a bushel, partly in sympathy with stocks, and a decline in foreign markets. Corn lost 1/4 to 1/2 a cent, and cotton with losses of 3/4 to 4 1/4 a bale.

Foreign exchanges were mixed. The French francs was a shade higher for a time, but most of the day was largely unchanged. It fell above the gold point this week, and sterling was up about a cent, and the Canadian dollar 1/4.

The rails received some stimulation from first report of March earnings. Chesapeake & Ohio reported net operating income of $2,866,022, a gain of about $500,000 over a year previously. Other favorable aspect of the railroad outlook was the Interstate Commerce Commission's special report urging co-ordination of railway and motor traffic and Federal regulation of motor vehicles operating in interstate traffic. On the other hand, it was expected that this week's report of the movement of revenue freight would again be unfavorable.

Bankers continued to give a large part of their study to the probable results of the Federal Reserve policy of buying Government bonds with a view to forcing excess reserves of member banks into other investment channels.

Further evidence of the decline in earnings of copper companies for 1931 was furnished by the reports of three Anaconda Copper subsidiaries, which, without exception, reflected unfavorably on the 1931 statements.

The latest General Reichenbach statement showed further loss of gold holdings, which reduced the Reichenbach ratio to 24.1 against 25.9 per cent the week before.

FEDERAL BUS CONTROL ADVOCATED BY I. C. C.

Regulation of Traffic Sought, Rail, Water Carriers Urged to Use Roads.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 18.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today recommended Federal regulation of motor vehicles engaged in interstate commerce and that railroads and water lines be encouraged to use the public highways.

The Commission's decision, in the form of recommendations which are expected to be transmitted to Congress, makes the following findings:

"That transportation by motor vehicles, busses and trucks, over the public highways is, within certain distances, and in certain respects a superior service and that the rail and water lines should be encouraged in the use of this instrumentality of commerce wherever such use will promote more efficient operation or improve the public service;

"That there is substantial competition between rail and water carriers on the one hand and motor carriers on the other for the transportation of both passengers and freight and that this competition is increasing;

"That such competition is conducted under conditions of inequality, particularly in regard to regulation;

"That a contributing cause, aside from the general business conditions, of the present unsatisfactory financial condition of the railroads is the existence of unrestrained competition by rival transportation agencies;

"That there is today and probably would be under normal conditions an excess of carrying capacity of existing transportation facilities;

"That unrestrained competition is an impossible solution of the present transportation problem and is incompatible with the aims of coordination under regulation;

"That Federal legislation relating to the regulation of motor vehicles operating upon the public highways and engaged in interstate commerce is desirable in the public interest."

"Our recommendation is," said the report, "that Congress provide at once to put Federal regulation to the test so far as transportation of passengers by motor busses is concerned. This would provide an organization which would serve as a nucleus for such further steps in motor vehicle regulation as experience and added information may show to be desirable and practicable."

"We also recommend that immediate authority be exercised over motor trucks of both the common carrier and contract type to the extent necessary to locate those which are operating in interstate commerce and obtain from them such information in regard to their operations as the commission may reasonably require."

"In this way data will be secured which, as the legal situation clarifies, will be of great aid in pointing the way to further regulation in the public interest."

"Our recommendations, therefore, must be regarded in the light of a progress report. They do not cover the utmost which we believe will ultimately prove necessary and desirable in the way of Federal regulation of motor vehicles. They represent merely the first step which we believe is wise and practicable to take under existing conditions."

Chairman Rayburn of the House Interstate Commerce Committee said his group had made a request for a bill affecting both bus and truck regulation based on the commission's findings that meanwhile the House Interstate Commerce Committee had reported out the bill repealing the recapture clause of the transportation act of 1920 and this week he expected to report to the house a bill to place railroad holding companies under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"Bus and truck regulation will be our next order of business," he said.

ALDERMEN VOTE RATIFICATION OF TRANSIT POLICY OF CITY OWNERSHIP

Edward W. Wiehe Heads Committee Appointed to Study the Problems of Mass Transportation
From This Angle.

BOARD APPROVES
BEER PARADE, 15-11

Mayor, Opposing Move, Responds by Delegating Proponents to Handle Ar- rangements, Including the Expenses.

The Board of Aldermen, at its first meeting of the new fiscal year today, adopted by unanimous vote a resolution calling on the president of the board to name a committee of three Aldermen to study the plans for solution of the city's mass transportation problem, through municipal ownership. The board's action on the resolution had been forecast by previous developments in the transit program.

President Neun appointed Alderman Edward W. Wiehe of the Fifth Ward, who was chairman of the Special Transportation Committee, as chairman of the new committee, which is to make its study in conjunction with the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. The other members of the committee are Aldermen William J. Studt of the Twenty-first Ward and Louis Fischer of the Seventh.

The appointment of the new committee was proposed in the report filed with the board March 30 by its special Transportation Committee.
